■ Saving the Edited Setting File

Select the [File] menu > [Save], or click the [Save] icon on the toolbar. The save confirmation message appears.

Fig.23 Save confirmation message

Click [Yes] to save the file, or [No] to cancel saving. If saved, the original file is copied to the backup folder in the current folder, and the edited file overwrites the file in the current folder.

■ Uploading the Edited Setting File

Select the [File] menu > [Upload], or click the [Upload] icon on the toolbar. The Upload Setting screen appears.

When the file has been loaded

When the file has been loaded using "Download" or "Folder" and the upload screen appears, the upload folder is automatically selected. Follow the procedure below:

- Step 1 Click the [Browse] button, and select the backup destination folder to back up the current setting file into.
- Step 2 Click the [Upload] button.

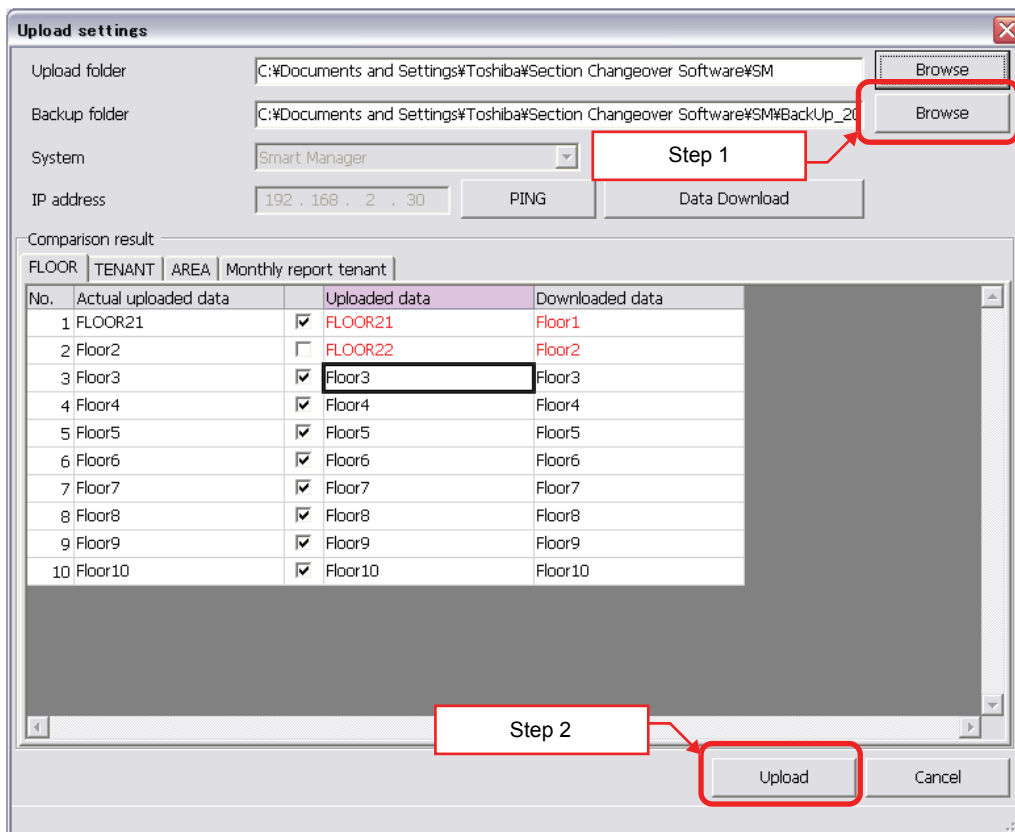

Fig.24 [Upload Setting] screen

* If the backup destination folder is not selected in Step 1, a folder is created in [backup_yyyymmddhhmmss] format in the upload folder, and the current setting file is backed up. For example, if the file is backed up at 16:32:35 on March 15, 2010, the folder [backup_20100315163235] is created.

When the upload starts, the upload confirmation dialog box appears.

Fig.25 Upload confirmation dialog box

Click [Yes] to upload. The upload execution screen appears ("Check for uploading is in progress." -> "Uploading..."). To cancel the upload, click [No].

Fig.26 Upload execution screen

If a setting file already exists in the backup folder, the following warning message appears:

Fig.27 Warning message

Click [Yes] to overwrite the file, or [No] to cancel uploading.

When the file has not been loaded

When you open the upload screen without loading the file using "Download" or "Folder", follow the procedure below to upload the file:

- Step 1 Click the [Browse] button of the upload folder, and select the destination folder to upload the setting file. The file stored in the selected folder appears as upload data in the comparison result list. Communication is established to the system to retrieve the current setting file. The retrieved file appears as downloaded data in the comparison result list.
- Step 2 Click the [Browse] button of the backup folder, and select the destination folder to back up the current setting file into.
- Step 3 Click the [Upload] button.

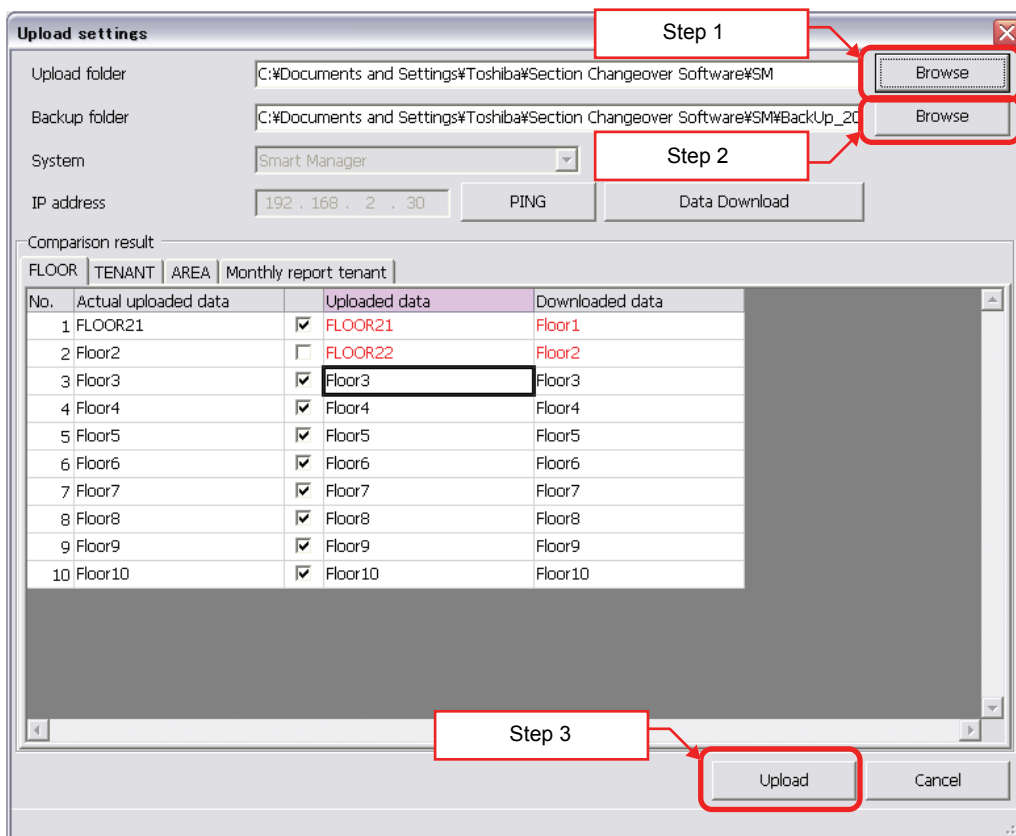

Fig.28 [Upload Setting] screen

* To restore data, select the backup folder selected when the file was uploaded, then perform uploading.

Using downloaded data as upload data

When uploading, to use names in the downloaded data from the system instead of the uploaded data, clear the checkboxes in the comparison result list.

If the checkboxes are cleared, the name of the downloaded data is applied to the actual uploaded data, and the data will be uploaded.
